

TARGET SUPPORT

Try out your ideas and see which stick

A little bit of feedback can go a long way, and trying out ideas on paper is often far better than trying them out for real. Target support lets you share ideas publically, generating interest and gathering feedback.

Co-designed in Scotland

This tool is co-designed with members of community organisations on the Isles of Mull and Iona, and the Kyles of Bute.

On or off target?

Once you've given this tool a try, text Leapfrog to 07537 414393 to answer 5 simple questions.

YOU WILL NEED:

All 5 sheets that make up the tool

A public space where you would like to pin the tool up

Pens for people to write with

A

Pin up each quarter of the circle. The sheets are numbered in clockwise order.

B

Write a short description of what you want to do (for example an event, activity or project) in the middle of the circle.

C

Write elements of your event concept in segments of the outer circle. You can leave segments blank to allow people to propose new ideas.

D

Add a few example responses to get things going, then leave the tool in a public place to gather responses.
